The power of five

Dining at Rüsterei

Many factors make a good restaurant but the most important is how they are combined. FIVE, Zurich's most progressive restaurant development company, are professionals in this field: they have opened five must-visit restaurants over the past three years, created 'lifetime guests' and will continue to offer innovative gastronomy in 2008 with several exciting new projects.

One: RIVE GAUCHE

Once the restaurant/bar of Hotel Baur au Lac, Rive Gauche has been turned into one of Zurich's most sought-after locations. A new brand by DEPARTMENT, redesigned interiors and an inventive international cuisine have made this restaurant a modern institution among the city's young achievers. Early reservation recommended. agauche.ch.

Two: TI – FONDATA STAPFERSTUBE

FIVE has introduced a new tradition to the historic Stapferstube restaurant: fine cuisine from Ticino. The name, Ti, is derived from the region's car license plate, and a cosy atmosphere, over 170 different Ticino wines and fine local dishes are the successful mix behind this little jewel. restauranti.ch.

Three: RÜSTEREI

Great old bricks, high windows and the signature Sihlcity smoke-stack provide the industrial backdrop for this artful restaurant with its Heinz Julen interiors. RÜSTEREI combines fine casual dining, a bar, garden, wine shop and event location under one roof. ruesterei.ch.

Four: REBE HERRLIBERG

REBE HERRLIBERG brings together the right people, location and concept. In September 2007, star chefs Jutta Stergner and Peter Jörmann came to Herrliberg on Lake Zurich where they now offer their interpretations of Austrian and Grisons delights. dierebe.ch.

Five: DER VEG

As the name suggests, DER VEG is a new vegetarian restaurant, due to open in February 2008. A new kind of fast-slow food restaurant for people who enjoy contemporary design, cool dining concepts and meat-free menus. derveg.ch.
